Multi-art fest

by Natalya Voroshilova at 02/12/2010 18:10

The Extension.art-2 festival begins today at the Open Stage Theatre on Povarskaya Ulitsa, drawing together different art forms. Dance, music and visual art will immerse the audience in an atmosphere where one form of art may be better perceived through the lens of another.

The dance component includes performances by individuals as well as contemporary groups, such as Po. Vs. Tanze and ZERO Dance Gallery, each with its own style and means of expression. The musical programme features clarinet, acoustic guitar and saxophone in a presentation of "extension music". The festival also includes the Proto-2 visual art exhibition, part of a series devoted to the development of human culture from the Stone Age to the present.

"All the genres are very timely and close to each other," said festival supervisor Konstantin Grouss. "Skillfully put together they create a special atmosphere where the audience experiences an all-encompassing and very individual sensory perception."
